Bob-e Yuuki Receives “Pawscar” for Best Dressed at Furcademy Awards

The Humane Society of Central Oregon’s shelter was packed with spectators as twenty-four dogs and two ferrets went paw-to-paw for the Pawscar Award at the first annual Furcademy Awards show. A Japanese Chin from Bend, Oregon named Bob-e Yuuki dressed-up as Johnny Depp from the Pirates of the Caribbean took home the Pawscar. Owner Tammy Sliney was very proud of her one and half year old three-legged dog. The Pawscar was a hand-blown glass art piece by Soulbursts, valued at $300.

The Best Dressed couple award went to a Lucee and Roscoe who were wearing matching denim outfits. Lucee, a three year old Affenpinscher mix and Roscoe, a two year old Rottweiler and Shepherd mix were adopted from the Humane Society of Central Oregon by Wendy and Tony Arnold of Bend.

The celebrity judges could not find anyone worthy of the Worst Dressed award, so they gave a “Best Effort” award to Waldo, a six month old Havanese walked down the red-carpet by Colin Burdsall of Bend.

All winners went home with a gift bag filled with goodies from Downtown Doggie, Polka-Doodle Dog Bakery, Freekibble.com and the Humane Society of Central Oregon. The celebrity judges were Mimi Ausland of Freekibble.com, Jon Bellemore and Kohdy of KOHD, R.L. Garrigus of Bend Radio Group, Brittney Hopper of KBNZ, Leslie James of The Twins 98.3, Nina Mehlfaf of KTVZ, J.D. Platt and Galaxy of JD’s K9 Kings and Cook and Colleen of KSJJ.
